JUDGE DAY'S DECISION.

The decision of Judge Edwin Day of Cayuga county that the execution by electricity law is constitutional counts but little in the progress of Kemmler's case. Mr. Day is the Democratic County Judge of the strongly Republican county of Cayuga, and has been twice elected on his own personal popularity. His term expires this year, and he is a candidate for re-election. With a record for integrity and fairness that is without a flaw, it was yet not to be expected that he would take the responsibility of overthrowing a law that was one of Gov. Hill's pet measures. He would naturally prefer to leave the responsibility to a larger court. The question will now go to the General Term, and if the decision there is unfavorable to the prisoner it will be carried to the Court of Appeals, and may even reach the United States Courts, under the guarantee of the constitution (eight amendment) to protect citizens from "cruel and unusual punishment." It will be months, possibly years, before Kemmler is brought to account. That he ought to be killed there is no manner of doubt, and so far as he is concerned it is of little consequence how "cruel" or "unusual" the process is. It took forty blows of his hatchet to butcher his wife, a very "cruel and unusual" number. Capital punishment will never check murder if it is administered promptly and with as much harshness as was employed in the commission of the crime. As society will never consent to this, the agitation of this killing-by-electricity law is likely to evolve a system of prison punishment and discipline as a substitute for death. Life imprisonment can be made much more horrible and dreadful than sudden and easy death, without shocking the community in which it is inflicted. But every execution of a murderer causes a harder shock to innocent people than the murder for which it is made the atonement, for the simple reason that nothing is publicly known about the murder till it is over and the victim is past suffering.

A decision against the law by Judge Day would have counted for no more than his decision in its favor. The question must go to the highest court in any event. If it is sustained there we shall have executions until it until some excruciating tragedy is enacted, and then it will stop. There have been butcheries upon the gallows, but not any of them so torturing as several of the accidents from "live wires" that have taken place in New York within a few weeks past.

THE SENATE.

The Republicans have assured the redemption of three Senate districts now represented by Democrats, by the nomination of Gen. James C. Rogers in the Rensselaer-Washington district, of Harvey J. Donaldson in the Saratoga-Montgomery district, and of William A. Sutherland in the Monroe-Orleans district. In the first or Long Island district the Democrats are in a quarrel, and the reelection of Simon A. Hawkins is assured. Gov. Hill has not yet begun his promised campaign for the capture of the Senate. He must carry eight districts now represented by Republicans in order to get the much desired majority. Even in the Albany district his chances are dwindling. The effort of the Albany delegation at the state convention to place Mayor Maher upon the state ticket was an eye-opener to Mr. Hill, and made him quite sick. It would not be surprising if he should decide that his chance of winning the Senate is not worth fighting for. But this is not the sum total of his troubles. The Cleveland Democrats are getting ready to knife the "paper masher" ticket.

"PAPER MASH" IN OHIO.

Murat Halstead has accepted Candidate Campbell's challenge to prove his connection with the ballot-box contract by publishing a facsimile of the document with Campbell's name three times upon it, covering subscriptions that would entitle him to $135,000 profits. Campbell promised, if he proved his connection with the contract, to withdraw from the gubernatorial race. Even this is not the worst that may happen to him, as his offense is punishable under the federal laws with a fine of $10,000 and two years' imprisonment. New York is not the only state, it appears, in which the Democratic party prefers rascals for offices.

PUBLIC OPINION.

The director of the mint furnishes a very simple explanation of the large exports of gold during the last few years. He finds that the Bank of France has gained $63,000,000 in gold since the beginning of the year. This is almost the very amount shipped from the United States. The coincidence in figures him that the exports in question represent letters of credit and bills of exchange issued to Americans who have visited the Paris Exhibition.—Buffalo Express.

Does he think that is the way to treat a friend who has stood by him as has Tabor?—Albany Express.

MORE ABOUT BREWERS' PROFITS.
There is matter for reflection in the speech of Hon. Wm. A. Sutherland at Rochester last Saturday, in accepting the Republican nomination for Senator in the Monroe-Orleans district. Speaking of the Democratic canvass and its close relation to the liquor trade, he said:

"Their organs denounce high license as inequitable and oppressive, while taunting us with the increase of the tax levy of the present year, which has increased it. With great gusto they parade the items of the next state tax, the necessity for every one of which was certified to by the State Comptroller, having denied to the public treasury a revenue which would have brought our tax levy below its present level. That measure was opposed by the brewers, the distillers and the saloon keepers, as it would have taken from them the right to extract the funds for their next campaign against high license. The Republicans in the last Legislature proposed a tax of $100 minimum to $200 maximum, on the sale of lager beer. That measure was opposed by the brewers, the distillers and the saloon keepers, as it would have taken from them the right to extract the funds for their next campaign against high license. The Republicans in the last Legislature proposed a tax of $100 minimum to $200 maximum, on the sale of lager beer. That measure was opposed by the brewers, the distillers and the saloon keepers, as it would have taken from them the right to extract the funds for their next campaign against high license."

Looking at these figures, how can we avoid the conclusion that somewhere along the line of this business there is a true source of profit that there is in fact, or in making so?

Or how can we help thinking that if there is a dealer who cannot afford to pay a tax ranging from $100 to $200, it is either because he is not smart enough to get his fair share of the trade, or because he is trying to dispose of his wares in a locality where they are not wanted?

And yet there are politicians who point to the increasing tax levy of this great and growing state, and they smile about it, "inequitable and oppressive summary legislation."

And by and by you will hear the cry rolling across the Atlantic, from British lungs, denouncing the inequitable and oppressive tax that has been levied on beer that is sold in America.

Here is testimony of the highest character to the enormous profits of the beer trade and its ability to pay a share of the tax burdens that intemperance and crime create. The establishment that Mr. Sutherland mentions expects to pay an assessment tax on $250,000 valuation. Its state tax on that amount will be $890. It is guaranteed to pay 10 per cent profits on $2,250,000 of stock the first year, or $225,000. The state tax therefore amounts to one dollar in every $250 or a little less than four hundredths of one per cent on its profits and four thousandths of one per cent on its capital. A similar rate upon the farm property of the country would call for a tax of $4 upon a farm worth $10,000, the profits on which are exceptionally large if they amount to $500. As a matter of fact the farm worth $10,000 must pay a state tax of $35.20, which amounts to about 7 per cent on its profits. A similar rate upon the guaranteed profits of that Rochester brewery would bring a tax of $17,750 instead of $890. The farmer is paying $30 to the state upon his profits for every dollar paid by the Rochester brewing concern.

Secretary of the Brewers' Exchange said at the recent liquor dealers' convention that $500,000,000 capital was invested in the business. If it is generally as profitable as the Rochester concern (and there are no other parts of the state that are accumulating wealth much more rapidly)—worth $250,000 of capital value is actually worth $2,250,000 and can pay 10 per cent profit on that value, then the breweries of the state are yielding an annual profit of $445,000,000. This enormous sum does not take into account the profits on other kinds of liquors which are supposed to be nearly or quite as large. What an infinitesimal item it is that the Vedder and Crosby bill proposed to take out of these profits! It is useless to pretend that the trade cannot afford it. Its wealth has made it arrogant and defiant of all law. The tax question is one of small concern; it is the Sunday law and the laws which restrict the traffic that stand in the way of the doubling of its already enormous profits. It will pay no money for the support of the government of a state that is trying to bring the liquor trade under proper restrictions, but it is prepared to spend millions to corrupt voters and elect a Whisky Legislature. And at the head of this great conspiracy against law, decency and morality stands David B. Hill.

JUDGE DAY'S DECISION.

The decision of Judge Edwin Day of Cayuga county that the execution by electricity law is constitutional counts but little in the progress of Kemmer's case. Mr. Day is the Democratic County Judge of the strongly Republican county of Cayuga, and has been twice elected on his own personal popularity. His term expires this year, and he is a candidate for re-election. With a record for integrity and fairness that is without a flaw, it was yet not to be expected that he would take the responsibility of overthrowing a law that was one of Gov. Hill's pet measures. He would naturally prefer to leave the responsibility to a larger court. The question will now go to the General Term, and if the decision there is unfavorable to the prisoner it will be carried to the Court of Appeals, and may even reach the United States Courts, under the guarantee of the constitution (eighth amendment) to protect citizens from "cruel and unusual punishment." It will be months, possibly years, before Kemmer is brought to account. That he ought to be killed there is no manner of doubt, and so far as he is concerned it is of little consequence how "cruel" or "unusual" the process is. It took forty blows of his hatchet to butcher his wife, a very "cruel and unusual" number. Capital punishment will never check murder until it is administered promptly and with as much harshness as was employed in the commission of the crime. As society will never consent to this, the agitation of this killing by electricity law is likely to evolve a system of prison punishment and discipline as a substitute for death. Life imprisonment can be made much more horrible and dreadful than sudden and easy death, without shocking the community in which it is inflicted. But every execution of a murderer causes a harder shock to innocent people than the murder for which it is made the atonement, for the simple reason that nothing is publicly known about the murder till it is over and the victim is past suffering.

A decision against the law by Judge Day would have counted for no more than his decision in its favor. The question must go to the highest court in any event. If it is sustained there we shall have executions until it until some excruciating tragedy is enacted, and then it will stop. There have been butcheries upon the gallows, but not any of them so torturing as several of the accidents from "live wires" that have taken place in New York within a few weeks past.

THE SENATE.
The Republicans have assured the redemption of three Senate districts now represented by Democrats, by the nomination of Gen. James C. Rogers in the Rensselaer-Washington district, of Harvey J. Donaldson in the Saratoga-Montgomery district, and of William A. Sutherland in the Monroe-Orleans district. In the first or Long Island district the Democrats are in a quarrel, and the reelection of Simon A. Hawkins is assured. Gov. Hill has not yet begun his promised campaign for the capture of the Senate. He may carry eight districts now represented by Republicans in order to get the much desired majority. Even in the Albany district his chances are dwindling. The effort of the Albany delegation at the state convention to place Mayor Maher upon the state ticket was an eye-opener to Mr. Hill, and made him quite sick. It would not be surprising if he should decide that his chance of winning the Senate is not worth fighting for. But this is not the sum total of his troubles. The Cleveland Democrats are getting ready to take the "paper mash" ticket.

"PAPER MASH" IN OHIO.
Murt Halstead has accepted Candidate Campbell's challenge to prove his connection with the ballot-box contract by publishing a fac simile of the document with Campbell's name three times upon it, covering subscriptions that would entitle him to $138,000 profits. Campbell promised, if he proved his connection with the contract, to withdraw from the gubernatorial race. Even this is not the worst that may happen to him, as his offense is punishable under the federal laws with a fine of $10,000 and two years' imprisonment. New York is not the only state, it appears, in which the Democratic party prefers rascals for offices.

PUBLIC OPINION.
The director of the mint furnishes a very simple explanation of the large exports of gold during the last few months. He finds that the Bank of France has gained $65,000,000 in gold since the beginning of the year. This is almost the very amount shipped from the United States. The coincidence in figures, with certain collateral evidence, satisfies him that the exports in question simply represent letters of credit and bills of exchange issued to Americans who have visited the Paris Exhibition.—Buffalo Express.

If Charles B. Andrews, formerly Superintendent of the Capitol, has any regard for his old friend, Attorney General Tabor, he will come forward and surrender. Mr. Tabor holds that it will not be fair to take further action in the willful case until all the game has been bagged. So Mr. Andrews will see that while he refuses to be captured, the Attorney General will have to stand still. Does he think that is the way to treat a friend who has stood by him as Tabor?

ALBANY EXPRESS.
The Governor made the Democratic ticket and while the Governor is running the Democratic campaign, but outside of the liquor dealers and prohibitionists there is little enthusiasm among his followers. Cleveland Democrats preserve an ominous silence but many a good right kripes the handle of a long and glinting knife.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

It is estimated that the 80,000 Americans who crossed the Atlantic this year on pleasure boats left $40,000,000 in Europe. Well, this country can not only take care of all the emigrants that care to come, but save European landlords and shopkeepers from going into bankruptcy. No wonder Americans are a popular class abroad.—Troy Times.

Governor Hill must be a very industrious man if he picked out the Democratic ticket, wrote the platform praising himself and prepared the speech of Mr. Jones, lauding the Governor to the skies. And yet it seems Mr. Hill's hand was in all of this.—Albany Democrat.

The South American delegates are receiving a conclusive series of Protectionist object lessons and will return to Washington convinced that commercial union between the Three Americas must be grounded upon high-tariff defense against Europe.—New York Tribune.

There is evidence that Gov. Hill intends to return to his law practice in 1891. His campaign speeches in defense of the Democratic party and ticket indicate that he is trying to get up a reputation as a criminal lawyer.—Binghamton Republican.

CURRENT HUMOR.

The renewal of college labor.—Professor of geology—Gentlemen, at the close of the spring term, I asked you to report to me, individually, any object of extraordinary interest you might meet in your respective out-looks. Mr. Corbett, you may begin. Corbett, "Oh—Please, no! I met a yellow hair, blue eyes and a tailor-made suit."

Mrs. Dumpsey—See here, Johnny Dumpsey! You have been in swimming. Now don't deny it. Johnny Dumpsey—Cross my heart, I haven't. Mrs. Dumpsey—Careful, sir! How does your shirt happen to be so wet? Johnny Dumpsey—Me and Bill Brown have been turning some-saults all the morning.

Baldhead and very homely old gentleman to photographer—Drat such pictures. Can't you make me look any better than that after five sittings? Photographer (thoroughly exasperated)—I think I can, sir, if you allow me to take the hair out of your head. It hasn't so much expression as the other side, but it's a blamed sight prettier.

Mrs. Goodly—I hear that little Johnny is sick, and that Mary is going to stay at home with him instead of going to the party. How sweet of her. Jimmie—Yes; she's Johnny's been eatin' good apples.

Young Man—Does your sister play the piano? Sister—Yes. Young Man—But she works it about seven hours a day.

What is a cold in the head? Medical authorities say it is due to uneven cooling of the body, rapid cooling when in a perspiration, &c. The important point is, that a cold in the head is an inflammation of the lining membrane of the nose, which, when unchecked, is certain to prove a catarrhal condition for catarrh is essentially a "cold" which nature is no longer able to "resolve" or throw off. Dr. J. C. Green has proved its superiority, and sufferers should resort to it before that common ailment becomes seated and ends in obstinate catarrh.

Indigestion

Is not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway, Centre, Mich.:

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and having tried every drug myself alone. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned, several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good, until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

CITY HAPPENINGS AND CHAT

BITS OF NEWS, STORIES AND SOME HUMOR AND GOSSIP.

A Progressive City Must Have Good Streets—The Philharmonic Society—Polluted Water Supplies, Diphtheria and Typhoid Fever—A Mishap, Etc.

Mayor Newkirk's antics on the wide-trip question here have been incidentally the means of bringing out many points on streets and road-making. The fact that costly thoroughfares here have been ruined by teams using narrow tires on the wheels of their wagons has been generally condemned. In speaking of streets the Newburgh Journal, for instance, says:

A progressive city must and will have good streets. If the citizens of any place are content that their streets shall be as bad as the roads in a neglected condition, worn and grooved uneven, then they will give up their claim to be regarded as a public-spirited and progressive people. For their own convenience, and as a matter of local pride, as well as moved by the desire to add to the value of their holdings, they will see to it, if they have the right sort of enterprise, that their streets are put and kept in good condition.

The Sanitary Inspector said this forenoon the "citizens' suggestion"—printed in these columns last evening—to investigate the water used on premises where diphtheria exists, is timely. The Inspector stated that a short time ago he ordered a cistern filled, Uptown, and an unused well on Murray-street, Downtown, closed. In both localities there were cases of diphtheria. In passing, it may be said that the Journal des Debates, of Paris, gives some statistics which reveal how typhoid fever is caused by drinking river water polluted by sewage. Owing to the great influx of visitors early in the summer the ordinary water supply proved insufficient, and the Seine had to be resorted to. Result: Whereas during the last week in May there were only 18 cases of typhoid fever and 12 deaths, the number had increased by the middle of August to 129 cases, 27 of which proved fatal. In the last week in August the numbers had decreased to 68 cases and 22 deaths. The Health Officer and the Inspector should continue to look out for polluted water supplies in this City.

There were 80 members in attendance at the rehearsal of the Kingston City Philharmonic Society last night at the City Hall. Of those 10 were tenors, 15 basses, 20 altos, and the remainder sopranos. Professor Hulander was the Conductor and Miss Crosby the accompanist. Several numbers were given. The Conductor spoke favorably regarding the work done. A new piece was a chorus from Mendelssohn's oratorio of St. Paul entitled "How Lovedly are the Messengers." Spring Message, by Gable, was rehearsed. An exercise on vocal sound was given. It was announced that after the next rehearsal, no members will be admitted without tickets. The next rehearsal will be held on Wednesday night.

When the present Wurt-street Presbyterian Church, with the exception of galleries, is finished after the completion of the alterations, it will be a fine old lady, a member of the church, was very much opposed to its interior, which, she said, was "too much like a theatre." When the edifice was opened for services she and her nephew, a young man, were seated in the front of the old lady's desk to the church was increased by her nephew saying: "Auntie, it's too bad you have to attend a theatre in your old days."

A physician says: "Do not go to bed hungry. If you have been to the theatre or out late, eat a light meal before you retire. Highly-seasoned foods ought to be generally avoided. Sweetened food is not eaten as much as they are. They hurt the digestion and spoil the appetite." Doctors, however, do not always agree.

At Wappingers Falls recently a dog ran into a bicyclist. The wheelman was thrown on the ground, injuring him. He has been taken to the hospital. The dog was shot and killed. A number of dogs in this City that attack wheelmen. Such canines are a nuisance. So are the wheelmen who ride on sidewalks.

A committee of Weiner Hose Company, consisting of Foreman Klein, Second Assistant Engineer Lewis Koltz, Secretary J. Meder, Edwin Cole and P. A. Keane have been to Hudson and presented suggested resolutions to the members of J. W. Hoysradt Hose Company of that City.

A veracious correspondent sends the following: "An Uptown lawyer, while arguing a case recently concentrated so much power in his vision that when he hurled a fierce glance at his opponent it shattered the glass of the speaker's spectacles."

Caucuses for the purposes of electing delegates to the County Convention will be held in each ward to-morrow evening. Delegates will also be elected to attend the First and Second Assembly District Conventions.

A wagon loaded with lumber broke down on the Strand near the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company's coal sheds this afternoon. The load of lumber on the road was mainly the cause for the accident.

The old burying ground in the rear of St. Mary's Catholic Church is being enclosed. Goals will no longer have an opportunity to sharpen their teeth on headstones.

Early yesterday morning a night watch man found flames in a closed carriage in the yard in the rear of Luffgen's saloon, Uptown. Kerosene had been scattered around.

Mary Smith, a resident of this City, employed as a domestic at Poughkeepsie, was severely burned yesterday by her clothing taking fire from a cook stove.

Officials of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company were in town yesterday. They inspected improvements made recently along the docks.

THE WILTZYCKS AT MIDDLETOWN.

They Were Given the Right of Line and a Cordial Welcome—The Parade.

To-day the reputation of the firemen of this City for making a fine appearance on parade was again enhanced by the visit of the members of Wiltzyck Hose Company to Middletown, Orange County, where they participated in the annual firemen's parade, as guests of Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company.

The parade carriage took the Hook and Ladder truck having been already shipped, the Wiltzycks boarded special horse cars at their headquarters for the Union Depot this morning, attended by a large number of honorary members and friends. They made a fine appearance as they marched from Union-avenue to the railroad station in four. They arrived in Middletown at about 11 o'clock, and were received by their entertainers.

All public buildings and residences in Middletown were decorated in honor of the firemen, and the streets were a mass of bunting of varied colors.

The Wiltzycks were given the right of line in the parade, which moved in the following order:

Police.
Chief of Aldermen and Their Invited Guests.
Board Engineer and Assistants and Visiting Chiefs and Assistants.
Firemen's Cornet Band, of Rondout.
Wiltzyck Hose Company, of Kingston.
Lincoln Post Drum-Fire Corps, of Newark, N. J.
Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company, No. 1, Florida Hall.

From Franklin Square the line of march was as follows:

North street to Roberts, to Cottage, to Railroad-avenue, to Grove-street, to Wickham-avenue, to High-street, to Prospect, where the parade commenced, passing in review at the park in front of the Armory, between the Mayor and the Common Council, thence through High-street, to Hartford, to West Main, to South, to Washington, to Academy-avenue, to Benton-street, to Saratoga-avenue, to Railroad-avenue to East Main-street, to North Depot, to James, to the Casino, where the parade was disbanded.

The bearing of the Wiltzycks, their neat uniforms and pretty silver parade carriage were warmly applauded. They received many compliments. The hook and ladder truck was drawn by four horses.

On their return to this City to-night the Wiltzycks will be received by the members of Kingston and Excelsior Hose companies, headed by the Pythian Brass Band.

AN "ADO" ON ALBANY-AVENUE.

In which Strangers, Revolvers, Matrons, Small Boys, a Domestic, Etc., are Introduced.

Last night a domestic employed at the house of George Brown, on Albany-avenue, says she heard some one knocking at the front door. On opening it she says she was confronted by two men, who tried to force their way into the house. The girl screamed.

There is no doubt about that. Mrs. Brown appeared on the scene with a revolver. Brown went to the house of a neighbor, Mrs. TenBroek. She hastened to the Brown house with an empty revolver in her hand, but she found no one to shoot at. Neither did Mrs. Brown. The men had fled. Later on TenBroek's son and Hiram Humphrey watched a corn-field for the strangers, but did not find them.

Fishing and Hunting Stories.

The late C. C. V. Quillard was fond of hunting and angling. He once invited a lawyer to accompany him on a gunning expedition to the Hurley woods. The lawyer, in telling the story to-day, said: "Quillard insisted that I should carry a gun. I protested, and told him I hardly knew a stock from a barrel. I was silenced by the words: 'I'll teach you then.' When we reached the woods the dogs were sent in and soon the whirring of partridges was heard, and one appeared to fly up almost under my feet. So was startled I turned around, and by some means my gun was discharged. The heavy charge whizzed by Quillard, within a short distance of his head. Quillard, who turned pale, shouted: 'H—, I admire your talents, but I'll be— if I like your shooting.'"

Weak Women

Owe to themselves a duty to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, in view of the great relief it has given those who suffer from ailments peculiar to the sex. By purifying the blood, regulating important organs, strengthening the nerves, and toning the whole system, it restores to health.

Like a New Creature.

"I have been for years trying to get help for that terrible general debility and weakness so common to women. Within a year I have taken ten or twelve bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and the benefit derived from its use has been very great. I am now feeling like a new creature after suffering so many years."
Mrs. F. B. Ross, Marlin, Texas.

Can Walk 6 Miles a Day.

"For nine years I was in a state of constant suffering, scarcely able at any time to walk about the house and part of the time unable to be out of the bed. I went to Philadelphia for treatment, which gave me relief for a time, but I was soon worse again. The physicians said I had a fibroid tumor. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and its good effect was soon apparent. I began to improve in health, and continued taking the medicine till now I feel perfectly well and can walk six or seven miles a day without feeling tired. I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine for women and anyone who has had blood."

JENNIE E. SMITH, East Broad Top, Pa.
